

EMILY BEAMER

MANAGER

Emily Beamer moved to the Walla Walla Valley in 2008 and has been a part of the Doubleback team since. Prior to moving to the area, Emily received a degree in International Business and Merchandising Management from Oregon State University. To receive her International Business concentration, Emily attended the University of Economics and Business in Vienna Austria. It was during this time that she was first introduced to the diverse world of wine while partaking in wine tours through the Wachau Valley along the Danube River in Austria, the Burgundy Region in France and several areas in Italy including Tuscany. Emily was working for a boutique coffee roasting business in Portland Oregon, when she learned that she would be moving to this world renowned wine region. She quickly decided that her knowledge gained in the boutique coffee world would apply to the wine world, thus she was ecstatic to pursue a career in this industry, which she had grown to love during her travels. Emily's affection for snow skiing, backpacking and running mixed with her love of food, travel and wine makes this valley a great match!
